Program

Carla Richards of B.U. Medical Center introduced Jack Hobbs of RF Walsh Company. He first gave an update on current medical center building projects. Then he announced a proposed new ambulatory care building. A strategic assessment of the current doctors' office building deemed it unworkable by current standards. Gregory Luongo of the architectural firm TK&A gave a visual presentation showing the proposed site of the new building (Albany Street from East Concord to the Menino Building), and the proposed changes in traffic patterns in the area. Those present expressed a positive attitude toward the impact of the new building.

Traffic on the Mass. Ave. connector is a concern. Mr. Hobbs, through Carla Richards, will provide us with information on who to contact to encourage a curb cut on the connector that would improve the situation.

The meeting adjourned at 8:10.
